

เกียรติบัตร

The IFLA Green Library Award 2020

THE IFLA GREEN LIBRARY AWARD 2020

HAS BEEN AWARDED TO THE PRIZE WINNER

Rangsit University Library
Pathumthani, Thailand

FOR THE BEST GREEN LIBRARY PROJECT

Submission Title:

“Rangsit University Library and Sustainable Environment Management Report”

Rangsit University Library is a private institution, yet it is accessible to locals and reaches out to local schools and a prison as well as teachers and students. In terms of educating the community, this library holds activities to enhance a leadership role for environmental sustainable management. They have committed themselves to sustainability goals as a managerial framework, and this shows in their professional, systematic and well-documented approach. Sustainability permeates nearly all of their infrastructure, operations and educational goals in an exceptional way. The library monitors its energy, paper and water usage as well as other activities, thus making it possible to evaluate how well the goals are being met.

IFLA/ENSULIB and De Gruyter Publishing congratulate the winner!

The Hague / Netherlands, August 2020

Petra Hauke
ENSULIB Convener

Harri Sahavirta
ENSULIB Secretary

DE GRUYTER

The prize is sponsored by De Gruyter and administered by ENSULIB, IFLA Environmental Sustainability and Libraries SIG
(<http://www.ifla.org/environmental-sustainability-and-libraries>)

